THE GRAND FINALE

UNC-TV is all about grand finales this month, as we bring FESTIVAL 2016 to a roaring finish, and witness the much-anticipated final episode of Downton Abbey on Masterpiece after six years as one of public television's all-time smash hits.

The curtain rings down on the saga of the Granthams Sunday, March 6, at 9 PM, but not before an all-day marathon of episodes from this glorious last season. It's the perfect chance to catch up if you missed an episode or just can't resist one last encore.

Great Performances:
Andrea Bocelli—Cinema

But there's much more to feast on in March, as FESTIVAL serves up a buffet bursting with musical performances, programs to help you improve your life and more. There's a cast of all stars on tap with information to boost your physical, emotional and financial well-being, including Dr. Steven Masley, Dr. Mark Hyman, Dr. Daniel Amen, the late motivational guru Dr. Wayne Dyer, expert yoga instructor Peggy Cappy, nutritionist Joy Bauer and wellness consultant Haylie Pomroy.

To soothe your soul there's musical variety from such greats as Josh Groban, Andrea Bocelli, Frank Sinatra, The Carpenters, Yanni, the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, Brit Floyd and a host of all-stars on Motown 25: Yesterday, Today, Forever. There are even tasty treats for railroad buffs courtesy of Rob Van Camp, and, for all things Walford, our annual EastEnders Marathon.

25,000 MILE LOVE STORY

Tuesday, March 8, at 8 PM

This inspirational love story about two people, their thirst for adventure and genuine concern for the world's impoverished children takes you on a five-year run across six continents and 35 countries—a distance equal to the Earth's circumference. Join Swiss endurance athlete Serge Roetheli, on fleet feet, and wife Nicole, driving a motorcycle laden with supplies, as the pair confronts extreme challenges in the world's harshest parts. Along the way, Their Run For Kids raises approximately $400,000 to support children's centers in many of the countries they visited.

STEP IT UP WITH CYBERCHASE

Season 10 Kicks Off by Stepping It Up!

Get ready to step it up with UNC-KD's Cyberchase! This nationwide challenge seeks to motivate 5,000 children to increase their physical activity during the school day using simple exercises and math-based activities.

In North Carolina, UNC-TV's Community Engagement team plans to help put a spring in the steps of over 620 students and teachers at Durham's Eastway Elementary and at Parkview Elementary Expressive Arts School in High Point.

Teachers, administrators and students will use activities developed by Tufts University's Active Schools Acceleration Project. Over the course of five weeks, each participating child will increase steps and monitor physical activity. By the end of the challenge, students across the country will have taken 25 million additional steps, totalling about 12,500 miles!

Join the challenge by increasing your steps between now and May. Get your free Step It Up guide by visiting unc.tv/stepitupcyberchase. Let's step it up, NC!

Smart Fats to OutSmart Aging

With Dr. Steven Masley—LIVE—in the UNC-TV Studio!

This physician and nutritionist brings years of research—and success—with a plan as easy as it is simple. Unlike the aptly acronymed Standard American Diet (SAD), which causes inflammation, hormone imbalances, losses in muscle mass and common nutritional deficiencies, Dr. Masley shares how simple lifestyle changes can help shed unwanted weight, reign in blood pressure, blood sugar and cholesterol and prevent and reverse heart disease. Learn what to eat, how much and even how to cook for maximum anti-aging and quality of life benefits.

THE 2016

EastEnders

MARATHON...

Many British programs have garnered fans around the world, but few have a following that runs as deep as the mainstay drama EastEnders, one of the BBC's longest running and top-rated series. Join our state's biggest fans, the North Carolina EastEnders Fan Club (nceastenders.com), for the 18th annual EastEnders Marathon. Watch back-to-back episodes while fan club members take your calls in the studio. Their support—and yours—helps ensure that EastEnders continues its long run on UNC-TV. Thank you!

THE SUN’S RISING ON NC’S NEW POWER ECONOMY

See Power Switch, Thursday, March 24, at 9:30 PM

You may have noticed new solar farms popping up in North Carolina, but you may not know that our state ranks second nationally in new solar production and fourth in solar capacity. In Power Switch, premiering Thursday, March 24, at 9:30 PM, on UNC-TV, producer Clay Johnson, of Capitol Broadcasting Company’s documentary unit, examines the burst of solar power in North Carolina, as well as the reasons behind it and controversies surrounding it. You’ll also enjoy an insider’s view of our state’s first large scale commercial wind farm, set to be completed late this year, and North Carolina’s emerging wind power industry.

SAVE THE DATE FOR THE UNC-TV HACKATHON

Friday, April 15-Sunday, April 17,
American Underground @ Main
in Durham

Hack UNC-TV will bring together the most talented students and professionals to use technology, experience and brainpower to solve how UNC-TV public media cultivates statewide community engagement among NC’s diverse geographic, social, individual, corporate and non-profit universe. Consider it a “design-thinking” #ncpublicmedia hack. Sign up at hack.unc.tv.org.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

Meet Bryan Sodemann

When it comes to what you see on UNC-TV, you may occasionally wonder “Why did they take that show off the air?” or “Why did they decide to use that show?” Meet UNC-TV’s “they”: Bryan Sodemann, UNC-TV’s lead program scheduler since 1999. But it took some serendipity for Bryan to end up right where he belongs—here at UNC-TV.

After growing up in Milwaukee, WI, Bryan majored in Social Welfare and Communications at the University of Wisconsin in Madison. With an eye on becoming a social worker, Bryan’s primary interest was helping people, and letting the other career considerations take care of themselves. One summer, however, he stayed in Madison. In need of work, a friend told him about a “traffic” position at public television station WHA-TV (now Wisconsin Public Broadcasting). Bryan decided to go for it, without really knowing exactly what it was. The work, helping organize the on-air schedule, was a great opening to discovering his true calling. He stayed with WHA-TV for five years.

Eventually, Bryan made the decision to move south, and nine years after applying for and landing similar work at UNC-TV, he moved into the lead programming position. But things haven’t stood still since then. With the advent of digital broadcasting, UNC-TV expanded from providing one channel to four. Bryan and his colleagues produce a prodigious amount of work every month to fill up 24 hours a day, seven days a week, on all four channels (UNC-TV, UNC-EX, UND-KD and now the North Carolina Channel). Filling up those hours is a complex process involving timing, required content from PBS, optional content from a variety of sources and an abundance of UNC-TV’s originally-produced content. It’s like putting together a giant jigsaw puzzle every month. And it’s all done with an eye on providing the quality, variety and integrity that you expect. What’s more, it’s done with deep concern over what you tell us you want. Bryan and his team really do listen and respond.

Bryan’s also a husband, a dad and an avid car enthusiast. Somehow, he finds time to play drums in not one, but two different bands. The former snare drummer for the Wisconsin Badgers marching band has an ear for music. Although not a social worker, Bryan has kept his passion for helping people—by sharing quality content that enriches, informs and inspires—without missing a beat.

Your financial support to the UNC-TV Hometown Member Challenge Fund will help us convert viewers into supporting members during FESTIVAL 2016. Just send in your tax-deductible contribution or pledge online at unctv.org/challenge. Then, during FESTIVAL 2016, we'll challenge viewers from your hometown who have never before donated to UNC-TV to match your donation—dollar for dollar. Your gift will DOUBLE in value when matched, and we'll proudly use your name on the air during FESTIVAL 2016.

SUPPORT UNC-TV BY DONATING YOUR USED CAR, MOTORCYCLE, TRUCK, RV OR BOAT!

Call 1-866-862-8855 to donate your vehicle or receive further information. Your donation may qualify as a charitable deduction on your federal income tax return!

Making Its Official Debut Saturday, April 2... THE NORTH CAROLINA CHANNEL!

When it comes to North Carolina, your new North Carolina Channel is the place to be. By day we're all about our state's key public affairs and information stories. By night we're music, arts, biography and culture with a North Carolina flavor. We're the newest member of the UNC-TV family of channels—the North Carolina Channel—stories with a local accent.

THANKS FOR WATCHING AND SUPPORTING... UNC-TV
